Labor Notes

An interesting experiment in revising hours for weavers, tried by a Bradford, Pa., firm, has proved so satisfactory that it may become general, especially for women. By the system work begins at 8 a. m. instead of 6, stops forty-five minutes for dinner and continues until 5:45 p. m. Saturday hours are from 7:30 to 12.

As weavers were paid piece rates slight advances were given to compensate for shorter time. The firm reports a sustained output, and, apart from the compensatory advance, weavers make as much as formerly.

There is a record of 200 cases of tuberculosis, treated at the government hospital in New Mexico, in each of which the disease was brought on by the inhalation of cement dust in which the victims were compelled to work.

How far the German railway authorities go in their guardianship of employees is shown by an order of the Frankfurt directors that the agenda of all union meetings must be given in detail and handed in fourteen days before such meetings.

The Musicians' Union in Victoria, Australia, has decided to maintain the entrance examination for new members, but members of foreign trade unions will be recognized when they do not stay longer than a month in the country. Otherwise the latter must also undertake the examinations.

San Francisco Ladies' Garment Workers' Union is to receive the support of its international organization in conducting an aggressive campaign of organization, to the end that every firm engaged in the manufacture of ladies' garments will agree to employ members of the union at union wages and under union conditions.

In the course of a recent address, J. H. Crabtree, chief inspector of factories in the Oldham district, London, stated that "accident days" in factories were fewer in July and August, partly owing to less employment during the holidays. They increased in the dark months and were fairly level from November to March.

One of the most striking facts, however, related to the days of the week. Accidents were fewest on Mondays, the number rising steadily to nearly 30 per cent more on Friday, while on Saturday they fell to 70 per cent of Monday's number. There was a marked increase of accidents between 10 and 12 in the morning and between 3 and 5 o'clock in the afternoon, the heaviest toll being between 10 and 11 in the morning.

Total disability in Massachusetts is met by the payment of half wages for a period of 500 weeks; in Kansas, half wages for no more than ten years; in Illinois, weekly payments up to $2,500 in the aggregate and in California, not more than three years' wages in weekly sums, ranging between $6.41 and $22.95. For partial disability, Massachusetts allows half wages for not more than 300 weeks; Kansas allows from 25 to 50 per cent of the weekly earnings up to ten years; Illinois allows half wages for no more than eight years; California allows 65 per cent of the usual wages for a period not exceeding three years. Ohio adds, where death occurs, $150 for funeral expenses to the payments of sums varying from $1500 to $3400. Men who are permanently disabled receive $5 to $12 a week so long as they live.

Economic legislation and industrial efficiency of the German nation is due to the splendid system of continuation schools, which have given German workmen the advantage of those in this country. The continuation schools are frequently supported by manufacturers, who realize the necessity of having skilled workmen in their factories, who add to a general education the increasing technical knowledge required in various departments of manufacture.

"What are you whooping about there on the back porch?" "Henry, you know I have joined the girl scouts."

"Well, what are you trying to do—ignite a noose?" "That's our distress call for a cook."
